INTERNATIONAL MASTERSHIP FOR SARAPU?

The N.Z.C.A. has endorsed an Auckland application for Ortvin Sarapu, 4 times N.Z. champion and winner of the 1956-57 Australian championship tourney, to be recognised as an International Master at the appropriate time.

BLEDISLOE AND BLACKBURN CUPS

The Bledisloe Cup draw is:-
 Round 1.-AUCKLAND v. WAIKATO, July 12; CANTERBURY v. OTAGO, July 26; Wellington a bye.

Round 2.- Winner AUCKLAND/WAIKATO v. Wellington, July 26.

FINAL.- North Island winner v. South Island winner, to be arranged.

The Blackburn Cup Round 1 draw is:-
 NEW PLYMOUTH v. TE AWAMUTU; GISBORNE v. WANGANUI. Clubs to arrange dates.

N.Z.C.A. ENDORSES APPEAL TO SEND RODNEY PHILLIPS TO SWITZERLAND

The New Zealand Chess Association has adopted an Auckland Chess League recommendation that funds be accepted for the purpose of sending Rodney Phillips to Basle for the next World Junior Championships in 1959.

This decision followed the launching of an appeal for funds by "Chess News" and means that the projected trip has the official backing of the N.Z.C.A. All funds raised by "C.N." are being forwarded to the N.Z.C.A.

Other decisions from the June meeting of N.Z.C.A. Council include:-

Swiss System: Council requests that all affiliates state their preference for either a Swiss or round robin, and for a restricted (24 players) or unrestricted Swiss, at the next Congress. Votes to be dated no later than August 24.

Messrs C.P. Belton, B. Menzies, O. Sarapu and A.L. Fletcher have been appointed a Swiss rules committee.

1958 Schoolboys' Championship: The national tourney will start in Wellington on Mon., Sept. 1, and will conclude on Fri., Sept. 5. N.Z.C.A. acknowledges donations from R.E. Baeyertz (£3) and Dominion Road C.C. (£2/10/-).

F.I.D.E.: Council has decided to (N.Z.C.A. Council) send $12 to F.I.D.E. for membership to 1958 and request that the balance be taken as satisfaction for arrears.

Future tournaments: Applications from Scandia Club (Palmerston North) for the 1959 (N.I. Championships) and Otago for the 1959/60 were deferred until the next meeting of Council.

Membership: Timaru have withdrawn from N.Z.C.A. Scandia have been admitted. Whangarei have requested information with a view to joining.

Remits: Voting on the Canterbury remit giving the Association power to debar players from tournaments for misconduct, was: For 9, Against 3. New remits have been received from Wellington, asking for the ~~rem~~ remit increasing affiliation fees to be rescinded and recirculated as the Wellington clubs did not have an opportunity for discussing it. Also from Invercargill and Otago providing powers for players to be debarred from tourneys for misconduct.

It is obvious from the contents of this issue that "C.N." is receiving assistance and support from many players. "C.N." is firmly established. Have you sent your sub.?

READERS WRITE . . .

World Junior Championship.

Sir, - I write in support of your suggestion that Mr Phillips should play in the next World Junior Championship. To my mind, taking part in world events is something worthwhile for its own sake, irrespective of any incidental benefit to a particular player or to chess-players in general.

On the other hand, I feel that you may have done this cause a dis-service by pitching the amount of finance required on this high side. With every respect to Mr Phillips, his time can hardly be so fully committed that it is impossible for him to travel to Europe and back by surface transport.

In my experience, the public are usually reluctant to subscribe to a project which entails the participation of one or a few individuals only and I would think it only reasonable for any such individual to keep his expenses to the bare minimum. Failure to do so could well bring the whole venture to nought.

- Yours, etc., J.E. ERIKSEN.

Tied players in alphabetical order.

In cold and wintry conditions, to the accompaniment of driving hail and sleet, 34 players met at 8.45am on Saturday, May 31, in the YMCA Hall, Invercargill, for the 8th South Island Championships. The players were addressed briefly by L. Esterman, club captain of the Invercargill C.C., who handed over to the club president, Mr M.J. Skerrett, who extended an official welcome to the players and declared the tournament open. From there the Tournament director, David King, and his assistant, Roger Allen, took over.

 Van Dijk was a worthy winner of the title, playing good positional chess with accent on tactical positions. Petre, Poole and Haase all played steady chess of the kind needed for the tourney; Rasa plays his own openings in an inimitable manner. Turner never lost a game, nor did he win one. He shunned complications and drew at least one ending co-champion (with Watt) showed he did not intend to play positional chess and dropped a piece on move 10. Skerrett outplayed Watt early, but gave away his advantage with a series of bad moves.

This is Pircs' improvement.

6.P-QR3!

Dr Euwe recommends this variation as the only one to give a hope of advantage in this variation. If White develops, then Black would develop his QN via R3 and collect the Pawn with pressure on K5 giving a comfortable game.

6. ... BxBP
7.N-B3 P-Q4

This is not the best here. Dr Euwe gives N-B3 followed by 8.P-K3, P-QN3; 9.B-K2, B-N2 leading to at least an even game for Black.

8.P-QN4

A premature advance before development is dangerous, especially Nimzo-Indian Defence (Notes by O.Sarapu).

WHITE	BLACK
T.Van Dijk	L.Esterman
1.P-Q4	N-KB3
2.P-QB4	P-K3
3.N-QB3	B-N5
4.Q-B2

This variation, introduced by Capablanca, has disappeared from international tourneys due to the Pirc variation, which is followed by Esterman to move 7. Very popular and strong is the Rubinstein Variation, Except for Petre-Rasa, the round was Otago v. The Rest. Rasa showed he was in particularly good form, but Hunter failed to capitalise on a big advantage in the ending. Haase won the exchange, after which it was only a matter of time, while Turner reached the end-game with a bad B against a very good N, although a P up. Esterman had the better of the opening, but pushed the wrong P defensively and went down. Steele, the def-with backward development and an uncastled K. Here again Dr Euwe gives 8.PxP as the correct move to get the advantage of Black's previous P-Q4? The variations are 8.PxP! and PxP; 9.B-N5,Q-N3;10. P-K3,N-K5!;11.R-B1! or N3P;9.NxN,QxN;10.P-K4, Q-B3;11.B-Q3+.

- 8. ... B-K2
- 9.P-K3 P-QN3?

As Black is ahead in development and the White Q is not placed well on a line which will be opened, he should not waste time with P moves to prepare further development. N-B3 or P-QR4! would still be troublesome for White.

- 10.PxP PxP
- 11.B-N2 B-N2
- 12.B-Q3 QN-Q2

Black has got his plan through his B on N2, but now he will have a problem as to where to put his Q. N-B3 is better, followed by R-K1 and P-Q5!

- 13.P-KR4!?

This is a very enterprising idea, based on the good position of White's Bishops. On the other hand, White has strong squares Q4, KB5, QN4 and also an isolated QP as more real targets than Black's K position, which as yet has no weaknesses.

- 13. ... R-B1
- 14.N-KN5 P-N3??

Putting petrol on the flame. After this, W is able to open a line on the Kingside decisively. A P was threatened and B had to defend it either by P-KR3 or P-KR4. P-KR3 would be better as it would threaten the N, but he would not need to capture it, which would open the deadly KR file. After 14....,P-KR3! it is not easy to see how W could continue his attack. For example, 15. N-R7,NxN;16.BxNch,K-R1 and B has many ways to stop threats along two diagonals by White's Bs, like B-KB3, P-Q5, N-K4.

INTRODUCING SARAPU

We are pleased to present the accompanying game, the first of a series to be annotated by Ortvin Sarapu for "Chess News." Mr Sarapu will also write articles for "C.N." designed to aid the average player. The first will appear next month.

Also next month: Progress report on Blackburn and Bledisloe Cup tourneys, more N.I. and S.I. Championship games.

 15.P-R5! N-K5

If NxP;16.NxRP! and RxN to follow will explode Black's position.

- 16.PxP!?

White has made up his mind and is going to open the K position at any price, sacrificing a N. On the other hand, KNxN,PxN;17.BxP would still give him a superior position with a P up.

16. ... BRxP?
 Missing that NxN; 17.
 PXRPh, K-N2 and Waite's discovered check with the QN is not as dangerous as it seems. There are at least 2 Ps for a piece and W has threats, but it is a very complicated position and by no means clear who would win.

17. N/5xN PxN
 18. Q-N3ch R-B2?
 Again B is afraid of dis ch by the N. Better
 K-N2 and after N-Q5 or NxP simply N-B3 would give White only an extra Pawn.

19. RxP! KxR
 N-K4 gives a better defence with counterthreats.

20. QxRch K-R3
 21. NxP Q-B1
 22. K-K2 BxN
 23. R-R1ch

Interesting to note that B-N7ch! would win even faster, as after 23....,
 QxB; 24. R-R1ch and 25.
 Q-B4mate.

23. ... K-N4

24. P-B4ch I-N5
 25. Q-N3 Q-B4
 Unfortunately for B,
 BxBch; 26. QxB, Q-B4 leaves
 27. P-K4! as the winning reply.

26. Q-Q1 BxBch
 27. K-B2! dis ch, but this time followed by mate next move.

ROUND TWO

Esterman.. $\frac{1}{2}$	Poole..... $\frac{1}{2}$
Steele.....0	Petre.....1
Rasa..... $\frac{1}{2}$	Van Dijk.. $\frac{1}{2}$

Turner cleverly won a piece early, but miscalculated and had to return it. Watt overlooked the win of a R and the game petered out. Hunter tried to turn the Ulvestad into a Regatello attack and Haase won brilliantly.

 Hutchings dropped a piece in time trouble.
 Skerrett left holes and was well trussed up, while Steele opened the White diagonals to his opponent's delight.

 Esterman and Poole drew carefully, and Rasa had opening troubles and was
 two Bs. His defence just held and the draw came with Q v R and P on the 7th, Van Dijk holding a perpetual check.

Hayes transposed and played B-K2 instead of B-Q2 and Van Dijk was in the sort of game he likes. Hunter sacrificed a R in a Kside attack and gained 4 Ps, but failed to get the expected mate. Saville trapped his own Q. Poole was all over Watt, but again Watt wriggled his way out and agreed to a draw when he had winning chances. Skerrett-Steele was badly blocked, Skerrett having the better of it until Steele sacrificed the exchange and Skerrett went astray. Rasa had an extra P in a Q and P ending but his K was exposed.

Haase 2½ (he was the only player on 2 after 2 rounds), Van Dijk 2½,

Haase and Hutchings both lost on time, Haase being a piece up but Van Dijk having a compensating attack. Hutchings failed to play P-Q3 early enough and was always in trouble but Esterman could get no more out of it than a draw. Steele's Pawns blocked his Qside B and

He never got his pieces working satisfactorily. Hunter, now in really good form, never loosened his grip. Turner could get nothing out of Poole. Petre-Hayes was the only game adjourned.

Van Dijk 3½, Rasa 3, Haase 2½, Watt 2½.

Watt-Van Dijk followed Watt-Esterman in the previous round, but Van Dijk exchanged correctly and, helped by a couple of inferior moves by his opponent, became the new champion. Rasa lost the exchange early and lost on time. Poole's greater experience notched his first win in an ending with three minor pieces each. Petre's handling of the Stonewall was an object lesson, while Esterman demonstrated to Turner and Van Dijk, who used the opening in R.4, the strength of the exchange variation. Esterman, slowly recovering from 'flu, had a clear win and then left a piece en prise but still could draw. Turner and Hutchings drew in a complicated position, both short of time.

Van Dijk 4½, Petre 3, Rasa 3, Poole 3, Haase 3, Hayes 3.

(A big selection of games from this tourney will appear next month.)

Seven games in one day? Yes, in the 3rd Taranaki Open Championship, a one-day event held at Stratford on June 15. It was a 7-round Swiss for 10 players, with a 7-round round robin minor event.

Secret is the special time limit, 30 moves in half an hour. All games last an hour, unfinished games being adjudicated. Play began at 10.30, with 2 rounds in the morning, 3 after lunch, 2 after dinner. K.M. Okey was D.O.P. and adjudicators were R. Kyle and R.A. Court, with J. Jeffares in reserve.

Surprisingly few games needed adjudication.

This type of tourney was evolved to cater for dairy-farmer players who cannot spend two or three days away from their farms. It has proved exciting and economical. The quality of play might be affected, but seriousness of the games is not. We give one as an example.

MARSICK TAKES WAIKATO TITLE

Bruce Marsick won the Waikato chess championship at Te Awamutu over Queen's Birthday weekend. The standard of play was higher than in previous years, although the top three players in the field of 16 in a 6-round Swiss were too strong for the others. Last year's winner, L.Whitehouse, was 2nd, Dr W.Reindler 3rd, and J.Kyle 4th.

Kyle, seeded 10th, won the prize for the best score by a player who had not previously won a tourney.

A special prize was awarded to 13-year-old Chris Evans, of Waikeria, who scored two creditable wins.

Lawrence won by default from Bjerring, who withdrew on the final day. Palmer, who was Director of Play for the tourney, drew a bye in the final round and played only five games. Adjudicator of unfinished games was J.Ferega, of Te Kauwhata, a player of wide experience.

COURSE OF PLAY IN WAIKATO CHAMPIONSHIP

Bruce Marsick took the lead, 3-0, after Round 3, in which Reindler and Whitehouse drew after each had lost his Queen. Reindler overlooked a check which cost a piece, when he played Marsick in the next round, and in Round 5 there was another sensation when Marsick and Whitehouse drew. The half-point gave Whitehouse second place, but the draw was agreed in a position which was a dead win for Marsick.

There was a grandstand finish to the tourney, Marsick slipping into severe time trouble against Kyle in the final round. All other games were over, so the board was crowded. Marsick had 3 minutes left for 10 moves, while Kyle had half-an-hour. Marsick beat his clock and then realised that Kyle, with White, had also had a clock race and made his last move with 5 seconds to spare.

July Competition

The position reached in the Marsick-Whitehouse game mentioned on Page 11 was as follows:

8/8/p4k1p/P7/4K1P/8/8/8. A draw was agreed, but with White to play, what was the winning line?

Entrants must give the win, and write a short article (up to 250 words) discussing endings with a single Pawn only on each side, with special reference to the exceptions involving R and BPs.

The competition is open to all readers, and 5/- book tokens will be awarded for the best entry and the best schoolboy entry. Entries must reach the editor by July 31.

Reserves Tournament: R.Morse (Hast.), 5½-1½ (loss to Scott, draw with Fischbach), 1; P. Fischbach (Gis.), 4½-2½, 2; Ll.Meredith (Gis.), 4½-2½, 3; W.M.Scott (Tak.), 3½-3½, 4; P.A.Riddle (Waipuk.), 3-4, 5; R.Mogford (Gis.), 0-7, 6. Tied players placed on a count-back.

D.I.Lynch scored his 12th win (including a tie with R.Severinsen in 1956) in the 13th H.B.-E.C. chess championship tourney held in Gisborne at Queen's Birthday weekend. He won easily, although in addition to his draw with Graham he should have lost to Cook.

Challenge Cups and book vouchers were awarded to the winners of the two events, and book vouchers to the runners-up. The Fowler Shield for inter-club competition was won by Hastings.

The tourney was organised by the Gisborne C.C. committee, headed by the club president, Miss S. Dodd, vice-president, Mr H.J.Toye, and secretary, Mr Ll. Meredith.

At the annual meeting of the H.B.-E.C.League it was decided to hold the 1959 event in Waipukurau.

BRILLIANCY PRIZE

Ortvin Sarapu, joint winner, reached peak form at the N.I.tourney in the sixth and seventh rounds. His seventh round game against Marsick won the brilliancy prize; it was the only game entered, but was a worthy winner.

| 4.NxP | N-KB3 |
| 5.N-QB3 | P-QR3 |
| 6.B-KN5 | P-K3 |
| 7.P-B4 | |

This is the Goteburg variation to the Najdorf Variation in the Sicilian Defence. The names of openings and variations are growing longer and longer.

- | | |
|--------|-------|
| 7. ... | QN-Q2 |
| 8.Q-B3 | Q-B2 |

- 9.O-O-O B-K2
 10.P-B5
 This advance is a little premature. Usually played is 10.P-KN4, P-QN4; 11.P-QR3, B-N2; 12.BxN, PxP; 13.P-B5, N-K4; 14.Q-R3!+

10. ... P-K4? Positional mistake, whereafter Black will have difficulties in obtaining active play, due to weakness of his square Q4. The natural N-K4; 11.Q-R3, PxP etc should give even chances.

- | | |
|----------|------|
| 11.N-N3 | O-O |
| 12.P-KN4 | N-Q4 |
- This exchange combination does not free Black from his difficulties or his cramped situation. Perhaps P-QN4 with counterplay on Qside would give better practical chances.

13.NxN!
 It is more important to control square Q5, than winning a P by 13.BxB, NxB; 14.Q-Q3 and QxQP.

- | | |
|----------|-------|
| 13. ... | BxBch |
| 14.K-N1 | Q-Q1 |
| 15.P-KR4 | B-K2 |
- Of course BxP? loses after 16.Q-R3!

16.P-N5 P-B3
 To avoid the sacrificial P-B6, which would open KN file. Now if PxP there would only be half-open file.

- | | |
|----------|------|
| 17.B-B4 | K-R1 |
| 18.Q-R5! | |
- Beginning of a long sacrificial combination based on weakness of Black KRP, which is only defended by K and can hardly be defended by other pieces.

18. ... P-QN4
 The alternative N-N3 would give longer resistance, provided he saw combination which follows.

- | | |
|----------|------|
| 19.P-N6 | P-R3 |
| 20.N-K3! | |
- Now it is clear that the White N from Q5 is going to sacrifice himself for the Black KRP to open the blocked P position. If Black accepts blindly White's B,N,P,R and N, he would be mated. The variation is PxB; 21. N-N4, PxN; 22. NxRP, PxPch; 23. K-R1, PxR(Q)ch; 24. RxQ and now whatever Black plays he will be mated on KR7 or KR8. It is one of those positions where all B pieces are onlookers.

20. ... R-K1

He sees the combination and frees KB1 for his B to defend the KRP.

21. N-N4 B-B1

22. KR-N1

To sacrifice still on KR6 and play P-N7 to open the KN file.

22. ... Q-K2

23. B-B7!

Cutting the Q out from Kside defence and again threatening NxRP. Now B has no defence.

23. ... Q-Q1

The best defence, freeing K2 for the K, but unfortunately the K is unable to escape to the Qside.

24. NxRP! PxN

25. P-N7ch BxP

26. RxB KxR

27. R-N1ch K-B1

28. B-Q5!

Threatening two mates -- R-N8mate if Q or R to K2 and Q-B7mate.

28. ... R-K3

29. BxR/6 Q-K1

30. R-N8ch K-K2

31. QxQmate.

ANOTHER SARAPU WIN

(Notes by O. Sarapu)

In the sixth round, Lynch made his fourth move against Sarapu without much thought and already on his fifth realised that he had made a decisive positional blunder, giving away the centre and two moves! Due to this, he could not form a definite plan and got a positionally lost game.

8. Q-B2 O-O

9. P-K4

Black is far ahead

in development and ready to start the middlegame, White has only half his pieces developed, so this move attracts Black to close the centre position, giving time for White to complete his development.

9. ... P-Q5

Possibly better would be PxKP to open up the position for play with pieces. Now the passed protected Pawn is an endgame hope.

10. B-Q3 P-K4

11. O-O-O N-KR4!

Exchanging the bad Bishop. Control over square KB5 gives Black better chances in the middlegame on both wings and in the endgame.

- 12. BxB QxB
- 13. P-QR3 P-QR3
- 14. QR-B1 R-N1
- 15. N-K1 B-K3

In order to play P-QN4 and open the QN file.

- 15. ... P-QN4 would be wrong after 16. PxB, PxB;
- 17. BxB!, RxB; 18. Q-B4ch.
- 16. B-K2 N-B5
- 17. B-Q3 P-QN4!
- 18. P-KN3 N-R6
- 19. P-KB3 N-QR4
- 20. N-N2 Q-KB2
- 21. P-N3

Both players concentrate on White's QB4, which square is the key to the open file. Each player has four pieces on the square, and it seems safe for White, but the sacrifice that follows brings the Black QR into action, after which White loses his hold on that square and the game.

- 21. ... NxNP!
- 22. NxN

Here both players missed that QxN, PxB; 23. QxP! was White's best defence, as after 23. ... BxQ; 24. BxB White wins the Q back and is a piece up. Black would have to play 23. ... K-R1 and continue with P-B5.

- 22. ... PxB
- 23. N-Q2 PxB
- 24. QxQP P-B5
- 25. Resigns.

There is no defence to many threats along QN, QB and Q files. It may seem to many that Lynch resigned prematurely, but it is clear that the win of more material or mate is not hard to find for Black. On the other hand, White has no chance whatsoever to get counter-play. If the positions had been reversed, I would have resigned against Lynch.

BATTLE FOR LEAD

In Round 4 J. Howe and L. Whitehouse, each with three wins, met in the game to decide the lead at half-way. Impetuosity cost Howe the game.

WELLINGTON C.C. TITLE
 J. E. Eriksen, champion of South Africa in 1953, and a member of the S. African team to play in the international teams tourney in Munich this year if he had stayed in Johannesburg, has settled in Wellington and has dropped only half a point in the Wellington C.C. Championship. V. Artemiev and E. Young have each dropped a point.

Printed and published by E.G.A. Frost, 43 Wilton Rd., Wellington. 10/7/58.

SNIPPETS. . . . During this year Mr A.W. Gyles, now living in Levin, has in turn been elected patron of the Wellington C.C., Wellington Chess League, and N.Z.C.A., in recognition of his long service to chess. . . . New chairman of the N.Z.C.A. is Mr C.P. Belton, long known as a N.Z. Championship player as well as administrator. . . . Council has expressed appreciation to Mr C.J. Stuart for his services as N.Z.C.A. chairman. . . . Brilliancy prize at the N.I. Championships has been awarded to O. Sarapu, best game award to S. Mancewicz. . . . Gilbert Severin, of the Central H.B. chess-playing family, was D.O.P. at the H.B.-E.C. tourney as well as playing. He was also re-elected president of the league, and Mr Ll. Meredith was re-elected secretary. Both have been associated with the league since its formation. . . . Novel idea in the H.B.-E.C. Reserves Tourney, to give six players seven rounds, was a round robin with two Swiss rounds to finish. . . . L. Estorman and A.E. Turner, each 6½-½ (their own game was drawn) lead Invercargill C.C. Championship with a round to go. . . . They are also playing a match, Turner leading 9-7 to date. . . . Four prizes were awarded in each section at the Taranaki Open Tourney, fourth in each being a "C.N." sub. Dominion Road C.C., without Sarapu and other strong players, visited Hamilton during June. They played a combined Hamilton team, who won, 7½-4½. . . . Sixty players attended the start-of-winter Wellington North v. South match, which North won, 16-11. Top boards result: J. Howe (N) 0, Z. Frankel 1; R. O'Callahan (N) 1, K. Beyer 0; N.T. Fletcher (N) 0, E. Young 1; R.S. Kent (N) 1, M. Ponimoni 0. . . . Civic C.C. entertained several visiting teams on July 4 and the attendance of about 70 pleasantly crowded their clubroom. . . . All present at Civic C.C. stood in silent respect for the late Lord Bledisloe, donor of the chess trophy which bears his name. . . . We want a full page of snippets every month.

ANSWER TO CORRESPONDENT: Problems:
A.F. Scott asks whether "C.N." will publish problems. We would like to, but "C.N." cannot print diagrams until it is printed, which is not likely for some time. But we will run them, giving Forsyth notation, if there is a demand.===== Overseas section is held over for a month through pressure on space.

PHILLIPS FOR WORLD JUNIOR CHAMPIONSHIPS?

"Chess News"

Now that N.Z.C.A. has agreed to accept funds to send Rodney Phillips to the next World Junior Championships, in Basle, Switzerland, in July or August next year, the trip will be on an official basis. "C.N." intends to undertake a vigorous fund-raising campaign to ensure that the appeal succeeds. Progress with the direct appeal speaks for itself, all donations to July 1 being acknowledged on this page. The June total has been forwarded to N.Z.C.A., which has now received £10/15/-

PENNY FUND: We suggest that clubs open a penny fund, with small contributions on say one night a month for the remainder of the season. We are sure such a fund, with progress reported on this page, would show -- in addition to the larger individual contributions -- how small sums can quickly add up to a sizeable total. Of course, the whole basis of this appeal, as with the main appeal, is that all contributions be made on a purely voluntary basis. Our target is £500, and donations to date take Phillips far out across the Tasman. First stop is Sydney (return tourist air fare, £63).
