Congress results

The 1995-96 NZ Championship title has been shared by IM Russell Dive, FM Martin Dreyer and NM Bob Smith - it is Bob's first title, and Martin qualified for NZ Master. The Reserve Championship has been won by Nigel Metge and the Major Open by Nigel's son, Russell. The NZ Rapid title has been won by Russell Dive.

1996 NZCF events

The 1996-97 Congress will be held at North Shore in Auckland, and the NZ Junior and Age Group Championships in Wellington in the second week of the July vacation. Venues are still under consideration for the NI and SI Championships and for the NZ Women's Championship.

Olympiad team

At Congress the selectors announced that FM Anthony Ker, FM Martin Drever and NM Bob Smith have been selected for the 1996 Olympiad team, with Mark Sinclair also confirmed at board 6. That leaves two vacancies.

Also confirmed was the selection of Vivian Smith in the women's team.

FIDE rating list

The January 1996 FIDE rating list includes IM Russell Dive at 2430. GM V Kramnik has joined Kasparov on 2775 at the top of the list (see Horgen result, p 25), ahead of Karpov and Ivanchuk.

COVER: A new face has appeared at the top in world chess. Kirsan N Iliumzhinov. who is President of the Kalmyk Republic in Russia (centre of the cover photo) has taken over as President of FIDE from Florencio Campomanes, who has been appointed FIDE Chairman. 5th World Senior Championship

The 5th World Senior Championship was held in Bad Liebenzell in the Black Forest, Germany, from November 12 to 26. There was a record entry this year - 213 players, 193 men and 24 women - and the field included 8 GMs, 5 IMs and 11 FMs. There were 20 players without titles from Russia!

The defending champion Mark Taimanov could not make it three in a row. The 11round swiss was won by Moscow GM Evgeny Vasiukov with 9 points. The main surprise was the success of Austrian Heinz Baumgartner 2295 who shared second place with Boris Katalymov 2460, of Kazakstan, on 8½. Baumgartner gained an IM with this result.

In 4th to 9th place on 8 were Gms A Khasin RUS, M Taimanov RUS, A Suetin RUS, A Lein USA and B Gurgenidze GEO, and J Muchin UZB. Among 10 players on 7½ was New Zealand expatriate IM Bob Wade ENG, and sharing 20= on 7 was IM Ortvin Sarapu. GM Matulovic YUG was 43=.

The women's championship was clearly won by ex-world champion Nona Gaprindashvili GEO, with 10½/11! Well back in second place on 8 were T Khmiadashvili GEO and V Kozlovskaya RUS.

Bob Wade played as well as ever and won a game when 2 pawns down! He had 2 losses and 6 wins. I was pleased that I did not lose a single game, but my plan to get $7\frac{1}{2}$ did not materialise. In my 4 senior championships I have played 44 games for 14 wins, 2 losses and 28 draws, which is not bad. But 28 draws is too much!

Acknowledgement

NZCF acting president Ted Frost and council member Tim Frost wish to acknowledge the many messages of sympathy received following the death of Ted's wife Adrienne, on November 28, after a short illness. By IM Ortvin Sarapu

Merv Morrison had 2 wins and 2 draws. As the oldest player he got a silver tray to bring home. Last year Merv and I did not play, but the standard of play was higher than two years ago, with such a strong entry from Russia and the Germans also stronger than before.

My best game was against W Adler GER.

All-Canterbury Championship

By Alistair Compton

For the second year in succession the All-Canterbury championship was held as a weekend swiss. It was played over 5 rounds with a time limit of 36 in 90 minutes, then the clocks came back 30 minutes to finish the game.

There were 12 entries, including 3 from Ashburton and Gavin Dawes, a correspondence player from Christchurch. Only 8 players from Canterbury CC entered.

The result was a win for Nick Cummings, who was unbeaten on 4/5. Second place was share by Arie Nijman and Matthew McNabb. Alistair Compton, Thor Russell and Tony Norriss were next on 3, and Norriss won the B grade.

The big surprise of the tournament was the defeat of number 1 seed, Alistair Compton, by Gavin Dawes in round 2. This was only the second game Gavin has played in over-the-board competition!

Where's my cut Paul?

What makes a game worthy of a best game prize? Most people would agree that among the required ingredients are logic, creativity and perhaps a certain unexpected twist to press home the advantage.

But there is another element that is often overlooked, but even more essential. I'm referring to the person on the other side of the board - the loser. His or her input is crucial. If the opponent "lays down and dies" without a fight, there can be no best game award. Only fierce resistance at a decent standard can help to win the victor the prize.

As the victim in the following game, I would like to think that my contribution helped to create an interesting fight and earn Paul Garbett the best game award for this year's Waitakere Trust Open. All three judges [Anthony Ker, Ortvin Sarapu and Ewen Green] gave top marks to the game, making it the clear winner.

Paul makes a habit of winning best game awards at the Waitakere Trust Open - and I am often his co-author. On behalf of all players everywhere who have come second in "best games", I ask [tongue in cheek] where's my cut, Paul? The prize this time was $50.00.

1996 Asian teams tourney

The 1996 Asian teams tournament will be held in Dubai, in the United Arab Emirates, from June 16 to June 30, and the organising committee has distributed an attractive coloured brochure about the popular event.

The tournament will be held shortly before the 1996 Olympiad, which could limit the opportunity for New Zealand players to take part - or, if they have the time available, it could encourage entry. Any player, preferably with a rating of 2000+, who is interested in joining a team to go to Dubai, or wants more information about it, is invited to advise NZCF.

Howick-Pakuranga invitational 30/30

Following on from last year, the Howick-Pakuranga CC organised three 30/30 events, played concurrently over a 5-week period in October. Invitations were sent to other Auckland clubs, and players accepting were Paul Frost and Nigel Hopewell from ACC, Bruce Tidey, Viv Smith and Bob Smith from Waitemata.

Groups consisted of 9 players, graded on rating, and playing a round-robin format.

Group 1 had an average rating over 1900 and included last year's winner Bob Smith, former NZ champion Ewen Green, current NZ correspondence champion Graham Banks and NZ women's champion Vivian Smith. Bob demonstrated good form to win with 71/2/8, 11/2 points clear of second placegetters Paul Spiller and Nigel Hopewell on 6. Ewen's early losses to both Spiller and Hopewell meant he had to settle for 4th on 5.

Group 2 was won by Clive Wilson with $5\frac{1}{2}$, despite losing his last 2 games. Jim Porter was 2nd on 5, followed by Julius Bojtor and Bruce Tidey on 4. This group was very closely contested, with only $1\frac{1}{2}$ points separating the top 7.

Group 3 saw a runaway victory for improving local, Rhys Starr, who scored 8/8.

By Paul Spiller David Rawnsley put in a good effort to finish second on 7/8.

FIDE World Championships

The FIDE Women's World Championship final between reigning champion Xie Jun CHI and Szuzsa Polgar HUN will be held in Jaen, Spain, between January 30 and February 23, 1996. There will be a prize fund of US$200,000.

Negotiations for the men's final are still under way, and the 1995 FIDE Congress was advised that a company known as High Rank Productions holds an option for the event to held in the northern summer of 1996 in Montreal, under the auspices of the Chess Federation of Canada.

S.I. decider - was White really better?

Tony Dowden writes to the editor of NZ Chess:

The Bennett-Coates game which decided the 1995 South Island Championship [NZ Chess, October, p.12] intrigued me. I happened to drop into the tournament for half an hour while on the way to a conference in Christchurch and so saw the passage of play from about move 10 to move 14. At the time everyone was convinced that White had managed to win right in the first few moves of the opening - however, I felt unconvinced. My insights into the game are given in the notes which follow.

President to visit clubs

Newly-elected NZCF President Ted Frost reports that he intends to visit as many clubs as possible during the coming year. In the course of a personal visit to Christchurch in January he will meet Canterbury CC officers.

He will attend the NZ Masters Games in Dunedin early in February, and will visit Ashburton and Otago Ccs. He also hopes to meet players in Timaru and Oamaru.

Games

Our selection of games starts with two played by Russell Dive and one by Ben Martin in British tournaments. British GM Raymond Keene published the first game in his column in The Times, calling it "a masterpiece of strategic strangulation."

11-year-olds beat IMs and a GM

There was a sensational result in a 1995 tournament in Calcutta, when an 11-yearold beat a grandmaster. Bobby Fischer was 15 when he beat his first GM, and 30 years later Judit Polgar was 13 when she beat her first GM. In Calcutta 11-year-old Surya Shekhar Ganguly beat a GM at the Goodricke Open. His opponent was G Serper ELO 2590, from Uzbekistan, who played at baord 2 in the Manila Olympiad 1992, when Uzbekistan finished second to Russia.

Waitemata

Vivian Smith headed a field of 24 in the Waitemata CC's championship preliminaries, conceding two draws (against J van Pelt and J O'Connor) in scoring 6/7. O'Connor was half a point back, with van Pelt, B Tidey and J Kerry all another half-point back on 5. They were followed by B Pollard and Alan McFarlane 4¹/₂; B Palmer, A Jones and C Walker 4; and V Collingwood, A Kesseler, J Shields, M Stewart and N Easterlow 3¹/₂.

North Shore

Matthew Barlow won has won the North Shore CC Championship for 1995, with 5/8 in a 4-round tournament with Leonard McLaren 4 and Peter Stuart 3. Five of the 12 games were won, 3 by Barlow and 2 by McLaren, and there were 7 draws.

In a 12-player B grade round robin Prashant Mistry, 8/11, just edged out Peter Snelson, 7½, with a triple tie for third on 7 between Daniel Johns, Arnold van den Heuvel and Ben Giles.

The C grade also saw a tight finish, with Anthony Whitehouse, 6/8, just holding off Patrick Baldwin and Mark Le Brocq, $5\frac{1}{2}$,

The fourth leg of the club's rapid championship was won by, with $5\frac{1}{6}$, a point ahead of Slobodan Jeutic, with Wolfgang Leonhardt and Peter van der Mey on 4.

Kapiti

Alvaro Lacunza was unbeaten in winning Kapiri CC's championship with 5/6, well clear of John Whibley and Les Jones, both on 3.

Bert Leggett just held out Mark Gosnell in the B grade, with 6/7. Gosnell beat Leggett in their game, but Gosnell lost to Glenys Mills and drew with Don Jeffs. Jeffs was 3= on 4 with Guy Burns. In the C grade Paul Hurring had a comfortable win with $5\frac{1}{2}7$, with John Holland 2nd on 4, half a point ahead of Rose Kingston and Chris Hurring. 12

Wairarapa

An open 30/30 tournament was held by Wairarapa Gambit CC, and Stewart Holdaway, of Pahiatua, who plays in Palmerston North, won with a picket fence of 5/5. Terry Powell, of Eketahuna, was second on 4, a point ahead of Chris van Gerven, Andrew Wratt and Tudor Griffiths.

Upper Hutt

Tom Plackic has won Upper Hutt CC's 1995 championship, but after a flying start he nearly let Gerald Carter overtake him. Plackic started with 6 wins, which put him 2 points clear, but a loss to Chris Bell in round 7 while Carter beat Anton Reid reduced the margin to a point. Plackic lost to Don Stracy in the next round, while Carter drew with A J Price, so the gap was down to half a point. Plackic and Carter met in the decisive game in the next round, and a win assured Plackic of the title, even after another loss in the last round. Carter was runner-up on 6, with Don Stracy sharing 3rd on 51/2 with the fastfinishing Price, who scored 4:1 in the last 5 rounds.

The B grade title was shared by Alan Drake and Matthew Reweti, each with 7/8, with Anthony Allsobrook well back on 4.

Civic

This year's Civic B grade championship saw a fiercely close battle between three players and it was not decided until the last game when Peter King beat Bruce Kay in a marathon game with two adjournments. This gave him the title by half a point over Brent Southgate. Congratulations, Peter, after coming so close in previous years. It was Brent's first year in the B grade and he caused a surprise by nearly walking away with a share of the title. Scores: 1 P King 5/6; 2 B Southgate $4\frac{1}{2}$; 3 B Kay $3\frac{1}{2}$.

Eddie Sarfas won the C grade with 7/8, his dropped point being a loss to Marcus

NZ Chess

Gordon. Second, on 6, was John Gilmartin, and 3= on 5½ were Marcus Gordon and Adam Jackson.

Wellington

Zyg Frankel won Wellington CC's spring open tournament, with a clean sweep of 6/6, two points clear of Ross Jackson, with Aaron Barlow 3rd on $3\frac{1}{2}$, half a point ahead of Lawrence Farrington and Michael Nyberg.

Wellington CC's rapid championship attracted only a small field, and the tournament was won by Michael Nyberg with $4\frac{1}{2}$, from Zyg Frankel 4 and John Cook $2\frac{1}{2}$.

NZ Chess

The Ashburton club has had a good year, winning its annual match with Canterbury CC for the first time ever, with the score $5\frac{1}{2}$ -

Surprises at FIDE Congress

The 1995 FIDE Congress, held in France, opened with the sensation of President Florencio Campomanes announcing that his terms of reference from the Moscow Congress included securing agreement between FIDE and the PCA, and as he had been unable to achieve this, he would retire at the end of this Congress. He gave one condition - that Kirsan N Iljumshinov, president of the Malmyk Republic in Russia, should become FIDE president.

Mr Campomanes said Mr Iljumshinjov was on very good terms with both FIDE and PCA leaders, and was the person who could most confidently be expected to conclude an agreement between the two groups.

The final stumbling block in the way of a FIDE-PCA agreement was Kasparov's condition that in the event of a tie in the playoff for the world title, he would be declared the winner - which meant that in effect he would be regarded as defending champion. Mr Campomanes said he could not put the FIDE champion on a lower level than the 3¹/₂. The club also ran a successful open rapid tournament which was well supported by players from outside Ashburton. N Cummings CA was the winner.

For the first time in eight years the quadrangular tournament in Dunedin was cancelled, and so was the annual event for the Oat trophy at Timaru. We hope to rectify these situations in the coming year.

The Ashburton town centre now has an outside chess board with its own huge pieces. We hope the publicity this has created will help with our membership.

The club is sorry to lose S Taylor, who has taken a position in Dannervirke. Stephen is an able DOP, and controlled the 1993 S>I> Championships.

Our club champion is D Burridge, who remained unbeaten through our championship tournament.

PCA champion, so he could not sign the agreement.

Discussion on unity within FIDE dominated the Congress, and another surprise came when FIDE world champion Anatoly Karpov - who was offside with FIDE at the Moscow Congress a year ago - called for a vote of total confidence in President Campomanes. After further negotiation, a resolution of unity was carried. It provided for Mr Iljumzhinov to be appointed chairman, with the special responsibility of unifying the PCA and FIDE, while the Deputy President, Mohammed Ghobash, assumed the powers of president, to be in charge of the administration of FIDE. Mr Campomanes was appointed chairman by consensus - but what powers and responsibilities this entails was not spelt out.

A by-election for the position of FIDE President will be held at the 1996 FIDE Congress in Yerevan to hold office for the remainder of the term up to 1998.

Correspondence chess

Progress with nine international events in which New Zealand correspondence chess teams are competing is reported in the latest issue of the ICC Newsletter.

New Zealand holds a lead of $15\frac{1}{2}$ -11 $\frac{1}{2}$ in a 20-board match with Canada, and also has a solid score of 19-14 in the North American-Pacific zone PATT/3 tournament.

The New Zealand team is not doing so well in the XII correspondence Olympiad, with a progress score of 8-20.

There have been two withdrawals from the team playing Wales, so team captain Scott Wastney [5B Grey Street, Rotorua] has been looking for two replacements.

Michael Hampl is the top-rated New Zealander in the latest ICCF Elo ratings. His rating is 2485, followed by P W Stuart 2455, ICM R Chapman 2445, R J Dive 2430, J M Barrance 2395, M R Freeman 2390, G B Banks 2385, H P Whitlock 2385, R W Smith 2315, G A Hoskyn 2310, IM M F Noble 2300, M V R Steadman 2280, B F Barnard 2275, R E Strevens 2235, A V Reid 2230, J N Metge 2225, B W Millar 2205, H P Bennett 2200, J O Bishop 2195, R S Mitchell 2170, I M Sims 2170, P B Goffin 2115, B W Anderson 2075, K R Austin 2070.

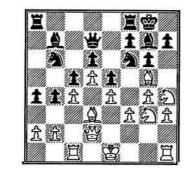

Third ICM

Michael Freeman, of Stratford, who has been captain of two over-the-board New Zealand chess teams, has become NZ's third International Correspondence Master.

The latest ICC Newsletter reports that the title was conferred on Michael at the last ICCF Congress held in Norway, and was achieved through norms obtained in the 1st Anglo-Pacific Championship and the ICCF Asbonyi (now Master Norm) tournaments. Michael joins Roger Chapman (1989) and Mark Noble (1992) as ICM titleholders. NZ Chess will review Michael's correspondence chess achievements in a future issue.

Simon Grainger in Australia

Wellington's Simon Grainger, who represented NZ in the World Junior Championship in 1993, has been pursuing university studies in Melbourne, and has played little chess in Australia. He has competed in one tournament this year, the under-2000 category at the 1995 Australian rapidplay championships, and reports that he found out how our of practice he was. He managed $4\frac{1}{2}$ 11, including a last-round bye.

Bill Ramsay CI scored 5/11 in the under-1600 category, after a promising start, and in the open kiwi expatriate Adrian Lloyd scored 6/11. Stephen Solomon won the open.

Simon says for amusement he encloses his most interesting loss, which has a nice finish.

Game 13, 2/10/95 Sicilian Defence Notes by FM Anthony Ker 1.e4 c5 2.£1f3 d6 3.d4 c×d4 4.£)×d4 £1f6 5.£c3 g6

This is the dragon variation, aptly named since it is extremely dangerous for both sides. After playing 5...a6, the Najdorf variation, in his first four games with Black, Kasparov selects an opening guaranteed to produce a decisive result.

6. Le3 Lg7 7. 省d2 纪c6 8.f3 0-0 9. Lc4

White plans to castle queenside and throw everything at the Black king. Anand's problem in this game is that he never gets around to castling queenside! 9....2.d7 10.h4

The attack is launched. 10...h5

A delaying move. White's attacking prospects are considerably enahnced if he is allowed to play h5, opening the h-file. 11. Ab3 Ic8 12. 1x6 b×c6

This may look strange, blocking the file the rook has just moved to, but there are two advantages in recapturing this way. Black's centre is strengthened and the most useful bfile is opened.

13.2h6 c5

Threatensc4, trappping the bishop, which explains White's next move.

A good moment for 0-0-0. Anand probably didn't like the thought of Black's ready-made attack down the b-file.

16... Le6 17. Dd5

This looks wrong. Anand has six pawns on the same coloured square as his bishop. Logically he should edchange it by 17.2×66 instead of preserving it as he does.

17...$×d5 18.e×d5 e5!

Now White's bishop is really bad. Anand decided to open the game up, seldom wise when your king is still uncastled.

19.d×e6? d5! 20.&e2 c4

Stops 0-0. The king must stay where he is! 21.c3 \(\begin{aligned} ccess{constraint} ccess{constraint}

The open e-file is a highway to white's king. 22.b×c4 \(\Box\) e6 23.\(\Delta\)f1 \(\Box\)f1 \(\Box\)f68 24.\(\Delta\)d3 d×c4 25.\(\Delta\)×c4

It's not hard to see that despite being a pawn up, White is in real trouble. Kasparov finds a deadly continuation.

Timman v Piket

Although there was 100,000 guilders at stake in this match in Amsterdam, the prestige in the title of Netherlands' number 1 player was probably more in the players' minds. Jeroen Piket 2630 is currently rated comfortably ahead of Timman 2590, though neither has been conspicuously successful this year.

Timman scored with his first two whites (games 2 and 4) to take a clear lead and Piket was unable to make an effective comeback his game 5 victory was immediately cancelled by Timman's win in game 6 and the remaining 4 games were drawn to give Timman the match by 6:4.

Hamburg

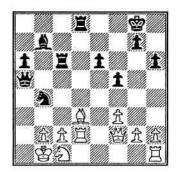

The 3rd Wichen Open in September/October was won by Viktor Korchnoi with 71/2/9 from a field of 373. No fewer than 16 players scored 7 points and these included Gms Ftacnik SLO, Malaniuk UKR and the German contingent of Bischoff, Hickl, Kindermann, Lutz and Wahls. England's Tony Miles was among those on $6\frac{1}{2}$. The following game is a typically combative effort from the Swiss veteran.

Piket v Polgar

Jeroen Piket had another unhappy match experience when he was hammered 6:2 by Judit Polgar on the Caribbean island of Aruba. After 5 of the 8 games Polgar led only 3:2 but the world's leading lady won the last 3 games. Like the Amsterdam match this was sponsored by the Monaco-based Max Euwe Association and Joop van Oosterom.

Horgen

The 2nd Credit Suisse Masters, a category 17 "PCA Classic", saw a close race between Vassily Ivanchuk and Vladimir Kramnik end in a dead-heat. The two winners had the first two byes, but were nevertheless occupying the top two places after 6 rounds. Indeed, Ivanchuk started with a first round loss but, after his bye, reeled off 4 consecutive wins including the prize scalp of Garry Kasparov in round 6. This victory gave the Ukarainian the sole lead, which he kept to the end, although Kramni kept him company from time to time, especially over the last 2 rounds.

The final round saw Ivanchuk playing white against back-marker Timman, while Kramnik defended against Korchnoi. Ivanchuk gained some pressure, but the Dutchman held firm, even if it appeared that the former was sitting on the position in case Kramnik managed to win. Korchnoi sacrificed a knight and the Russian's king fled to the queenside; Korchnoi eventually regained the piece, chased his opponent's king back to the kingside, and even had an extrra pawn in a queen and pawn ending which he did not attempt to convert.

Kasparov, fresh (tired?) from his match with Viswanathan Anand, gained a number of small advantages, but was unable to convert them, other than his solitary win against Korchnoi.

As well as the main event there was a category 11 (2507) GM tournament which was won by the Hungarian GM Zoltan Almasi with $7\frac{1}{2}$, a full point ahead of England's GM Julian Hodgson.

The king's flexibility of movement

At the International chess seminar in Sukhumi [1988] which I attended, Averbakh stated that the four studies which follow are very important for chess teaching.

> Reti, R Study, 1927

By FM Jonathan Sarfati White is outside the square of the Å on h5, while Black is inside the square of the Å on c6. But White can exploit the Φ 's flexibility to threaten simultaneously to enter the h-Å's squares and to escort his own Å to the queening square.

International junior strength

The greatly increased strength of international junior competition in recent years - which also indicates the extent to which New Zealand has fallen behind - is shown in Australian reports on this year's world and Asian Junior Championships.

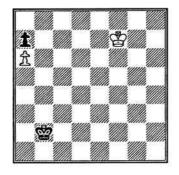

Australian junior champion J P Wallace reports in the latest issue of Australian Chess Magazine that 73 countries were represented at the World Junior in Germany. The top seed was GM Alexander Onischuk UKR, on 2575, and he was one of 25 players rated 2400 or more.

In the girls' championship there were 13 players rated over 2300, with Hoang Th Trang VIE top seed on 2405. However, Wallace points out that in addition to that strength, many of the fast-improving young players performed well above their ratings - WGM Nino Khurtidze GEO on 2295 scored 11/13 to win the title. By Ted Frost

Wallace scored 6¹/₂, to finish 35th= in the boys' event, and in the girls' Veronic Klimenko scored 5 to finish a disappointing 54th.

Neil Steffensen reports that in the Asian Junior in Iran he had travel difficulties to start with, with flight changes and a $6\frac{1}{2}$ -hour bus ride just before playing his first game. He scored a creditable 6/9 to finish 4th on count-back behind Darmen Sadvakasov KAZ 2260, Sharma IND and Andador PHI.

Steffenson says: "I was the only competitor without a coach or second at the tournament. I was the only competitor who had to pay for their trip, with all the other competitors' travelling costs paid for by their federation or government." He lists the sponsors without whose assistance he would not have been able to make the trip. Schlage - Ahues 1921 From Pawn Endings, Averback & Maizelis 1924, p.26

To draw, Black must be in a position to reply to $\Phi xa7$ with $\Phi c7/8$. White must try to stop this.

NZCF Council Report

Council restructuring

Following Bill Poole's move to Invercargill, and the return of Russell Dive to New Zealand, also an approach to Dave Capper to return to Council, the Council has agreed to a measure of restructuring. This is partly to spread the workload but also to focus attention on specific areas of development. The election of officers at the annual meeting has assisted these changes, which include:

Election of Ted Frost as president and Russell Dive as vice-president, with Alan Aldridge as secretary. There is still no nomination as treasurer, but Council has taken urgent action to bring the accounts up to date.

Arthur Pomeroy continues as tournament convenor, with Tim Frost on the committee and Russell Dive a member ex officio. This committee has responsibility for oversight both of New Zealand competitions and international play. Arthur is convenor of selectors, with Bob Gibbons remaining on the panel. Graham Haase has accepted appointment as a South Island member of the panel.

Bob Gibbons is reappointed convenor of the technical committee, with Peter Stuart as member, and responsibility for reviewing tournament rules (currently looking at the swiss system) and other procedural matters such as recognition of tournament directors.

Dave Capper has accepted appointment as convenor of the junior development committee, which will look after such areas as chess in schools (except competitions) and coaching. Dave is being assisted initially by Jonathan Sarfati and Michael Nyberg, with Ted Frost as ex officio member of the committee. Graham Banks and Ken Pow agreed last year to be consultants in this area.

Jim Simmons remains rating officer and the "rating committee"

Ted Frost is editor of NZ Chess, with councillors assisting with proofreading.

The council team will handle day-to-day financial transactions, under the guidance and supervision of Russell Dive.

Stop press - annual meeting decisions

Key decisions made by the NZCF annual meeting include:

Provision for a form of "associate membership" which will enable groups not fully affiliated to conduct rated tournaments, but without voting power in the federation.

Provision for registration of individual players, from both fully affiliated and associate clubs (the registration fee replaces the existing affiliation fee).

Clubs are required to notify open rated tournaments they plan to hold, and requirements for reporting on tournaments have been revised.

The NZ Championship is to be played as a Swiss with a minimum of 18 players. Detailed arrangements have yet to be finalised.

In line with international practice, play at Congress will be continuous, based on a maximum 7-hour session (40 in 2, 20 in 1, 1 hour to finish).

Some clubs registered disapproval at late presentation of the annual report and lack of financial statements. The report was adopted, with Council giving undertakings regarding completion of the accounts.

1996 club programmes

Clubs which have forwarded their 1996 programmes to NZCF are Howick-Pakuranga, Upper Hutt and Wellington. Clubs will shortly receive requests to advise their arrangements for open rated tournaments, as mentioned above.
