STOP PRESS

Tribute to Ortvín Sarapu

The August issue of NZ Chess will be dedicated to the memory of IM Ortvín Sarapu. Most of the issue will give biographical background, personal reminiscences, playing record and annotated games (some well known, others not so well known) of New Zealand's late "Mr Chess."

Contributions are coming from a variety of sources, but additional information (memories and brief tributes, comment on games, or game scores) will be welcome. This must reach the editor by Saturday, August 7.

In order to keep the August issue clear for this purpose, publication of the June issue was delayed to give readers an up-to-date report on the North Island Championship, including the games of English GM Stuart Conquest.

Asian Team Championship

Three players have indicated that they are available for the Asian Team Championship, being played in Shenyang in October. One more player is a possibility. Anyone interested should contact NZCF immediately, because a go/no go decision should be made this month.

Changes of address and contacts

A number of clubs have advised NZCF of changes in officers, meeting times, etc. These changes are included in the list of clubs on the inside back page of this issue of NZ Chess.

Cover picture: The participation of English grandmaster Stuart Conquest was a highlight of the 1999 North Island Championship, held in Hamilton from July 4-9. This issue contains a full report.

Contents

- 4 The 1999 North Island Championship was dominated by English GM Stuart Conquest, and everyone will enjoy his games - most of them were about 20 moves. There was also a tough battle for the title, which Nigel Hopewell shared with Bob Smith.
  - 8 In the new format of the N.I. tournament, there was a separate Reserve Championship, which was keenly contested between Ryan Trass and Bruce Kay, the latter enjoying his best tournament result in several years.
  - 9 Igor Bjelobrk maintained his top placing in the junior ranks, although the late arrangements meant that some players who would have liked to play missed out.
  - 11 IM Russell Dive and Alexei Kulashko participated in the first zonal in the new Oceania zone, with some surprising results.
  - 16 The mid-year rating list does not present any major surprises in the top rankings.
  - 22 FM Bob Smith has always suffered in the Waitakere Trust Open from his intensive work in organising the event, but this year he broke through and snatched a well-merited solo victory.
  - 25 Bruce Barnard reigns supreme in New Zealand's postal chess, taking the NZCCA Championship for the second year in succession.
  - 26 There's not much regional news, but Vivian Smith has held her national women's title and Russell Dive has been interviewed regularly on the current Kasparov v The World match on the Internet.
  - 27 NM Peter Stuart's overseas news section is shorter than usual, but there's still plenty of variety in the recent play.
- THE NEXT ISSUE: Tributes to Ortvín Sarapu will be the feature of this special issue, although usual features will still appear.

1999 North Island Championship

By Ted Frost

The 1999 North Island Championship was different, it was memorable and it was exciting. While there was a tough fight for the title, the differences arose from other factors.

With so few non-metropolitan clubs and no advance offers to host the tournament, Hamilton Chess Club stepped into the breach again, but introduced some refreshing changes. NZCF and other clubs cooperated in changing the rules to divide the tournament in two and enable overseas players to compete in the championship with the hope that it could be FIDE-rated and have FIDE titles on offer.

These goals were achieved in part. As part of Howick-Pakuranga's advance efforts to build international interest in the coming Congress, Paul Spiller had been in touch with a number of masters overseas, and he was able to give Hamilton the great news that English GM Stuart Conquest could play. Stuart was not able to come to Congress, but one of his prizes as yet unclaimed was air tickets to any destination in the world - and as long as he could get back to Britain for the British Championship the idea of a trip to New Zealand had great appeal.

Hamilton made prodigious efforts to get participation from top New Zealand players and others from overseas, but time and other commitments were major handicaps. However, two other overseas players did come - Kerry Corker from Brisbane and David Lovejoy of Northern New South Wales.

FM Bob Smith was the highest-rated of the New Zealanders, followed by Nigel Hopewell and four others rated over 2000, and there was a fairly long tail in the field of 14.

Conquest dominates

However, that did not mar the success of the tournament. As was to be expected, Conquest dominated the event. He won every game, the average length was just 25 moves, and four did not go beyond move 20. One suspects that Conquest enjoyed playing those games just as much as readers will enjoy playing them over.

The visiting GM's excellence over the board was matched away from it - there was a continuous flow of comment about his friendliness and his readiness to analyse and advise. The phrase "A wonderful ambassador for chess" was voiced more than once, with the hope that he would return to New Zealand at some time in the future.

On the evening before the last round Suart played a simul against 22 opponents, and did not fare as well as he would have liked, conceding four losses and two draws - the losses to Philip Hair, Philip Rossiter, Ralph Hart and Igor Bjelobrk, and the draws to Mark Sinclair and Graham Pocock.

Race for the title

While first place in the tournament was never in doubt, the real race took place for second place and the North Island title.

Bob Smith was favourite, rated 130-odd points ahead of Hopewell, but a draw against Paul Spiller in round 1 kept him from the early lead (in the runner-up race). However, nearest challengers Nigel Hopewell and Graeme Spain met Stuart Conquest in rounds 2 and 3, so after 3 rounds Smith was on 2½, with Hopewell, Spain and Bjelobrk on 2.

Smith met Conquest in round 4, and when Spain and Hopewell drew with each other and Bjelobrk drew with Gavin Marnar, the title race was wide open. Ralph Hart beat visitor Lovejoy and there were 5 on 2½ - Smith, Hopewell, Spain, Bjelobrk and Hart.

In round 5 Smith beat Hopewell, Spain beat Bjelobrk and Hart lost to Conquest, so Smith and Spain led with 3½. Spiller came into the picture on 3 with a win over William Lynn.

In round 6 Smith beat Spain, While Hopewell beat Kerry Corker and Bjelobrk beat Hart. This put Smith on 4½, a point clear of Hopewell, Spain and Bjelobrk.

Smith drew with Hair in round 7 to reach 5, while Hopewell won from Spiller and Spain from Marnar to bring them to 4½, just half a point back. Bjelobrk dropped out of contention by meeting Conquest in this round.

In the final round, Smith and Bjelobrk drew, while Hopewell beat Lynn to catch up and share the title on 5½, while Spain drew with Corker to finish on 5, a point ahead of Bjelobrk.

Hamilton's small working group led by Hilton Bennett and William Lynn were thanked for their efforts in running a memorable tournament in the familiar but excellent Hillcrest Lodge Motor Inn, including the arrangement of sponsorship from Hillcrest and Iprolink, and for administration of the event itself.

As tournament director, NZCF president Peter Stuart ran the event without a hitch.

Two masters for Congress

Howick-Pakuranga CC continues its around-the-world efforts to attract overseas masters to its millenium congress, and has received a second confirmation.

Paul Spiller reports that IM Herman van Riemsdijk, of Sao Paulo, Brazil, has confirmed that he will play. Paul understand that the Brazilian master has a brother who farms near Palmerston North, which has helped him decide to make the trip.

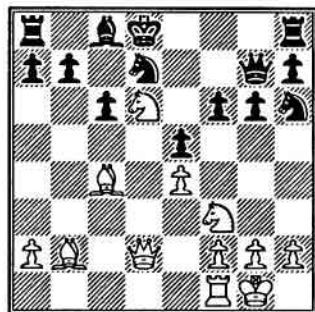

van Riemsdijk will join Croatian GM Drazen Sermek in the New Zealand Championship.

There has been no confirmation yet of the top New Zealanders who will compete.

1999 North Island Rapid

Stuart Conquest was pressed harder in the North Island Rapid Championship than in the main event in Hamilton, drawing with Alexei Kulashko in round 4. This allowed Kulashko to threaten to share first place, but a draw with Bob Smith in the final round left Kulashko on 5/6, half a point behind Conquest.

However, Kulashko took the North Island title as he was alone in second place, half a point ahead of a packed field.

Leonard McLaren drew with Paul Garbett in the last round, which kept him on 4½, along with Smith, B Watson and Bjelobrk. Next on 4 were P A Garbett, A F Ker, R Hart, A Krstev, K W Lynn, P I Hair and B G Walsh.

The rapid attracted 44 entries.

As part of the rearrangement of the North Island tournament, a reserve championship was introduced for the players not in the main event, and this attracted 25 entries. This innovation proved popular, the competition was keen and players enjoyed their games.

Ryan Trass gained some compensation for missing a challenge to Igor Bjelobrk in the 1999 New Zealand Junior Championship (through a communication glitch) by taking first place, although he was hard-pressed by Bruce Kay, of Civic, who enjoyed his best tournament result for some years. Trass was unbeaten, conceding only draws to Kay and Hamish Gold.

After seven rounds Trass and Kay shared the lead, but in the final round Kay suffered his first loss. He went down to Campbell Clark, who suffered early losses but made a late charge with four straight wins.

Features of the event were the participation of three women and half a dozen South Islanders. Zoe Kingston fared best of the women players, scoring 4, half a point ahead of Glenys Mills.

1999 New Zealand junior championship

By NM Peter Stuart

As in 1998 this event was played at the Auckland Chess Centre and organised, reluctantly this time, by the Auckland Chess Association. Indeed, had the Association not come forward it is likely there would have been no national junior championship this year so thank you ACA!

The uncertainty as to where/when the event would be played until relatively late may have been the main factor in the smaller field than last year with several "name" players not competing. There were, however, a number of new faces with the result that less than 40% of the players had standard ratings.

Igor Bjelobrk was the overwhelming favourite as he was rated more than 300 points ahead of the second seed, Wellingtonian Nicholas Croad. The ratings didn't lie - Igor won all seven games, most of them very convincingly. Only Lamar Ah-Chee gained some chances when he went for broke against him in the last round but Bjelobrk's defence was solid.

Paul Godfrey, in his last year as a junior, took second place while Pu Chen Wang, the second youngest competitor, shared third place with Daniel Han and Qaasim Dollie, two more Auckland schoolboys.

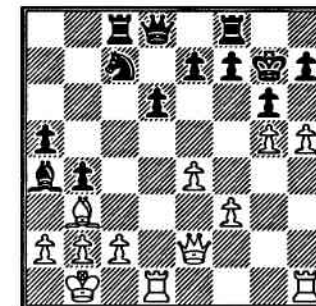

Bjelobrk, in addition to the main title, also took the under-18 and national schoolpupil titles while Wang collected the under-16, under-14 and under-12 titles.

The following three games were probably the best played:

Han - Croad

1999 Oceania zonal

The new Oceania Zone (FIDE's zone 3.2b) was formed as recently as the 1998 FIDE Congress, and the first zonal tournaments had to be played with little time for preparation. This event was held in Queensland in April and the arrangements at the Surfers' Paradise Parkroyal have been highly commended.

While national championships are qualifying events, the 1999 zonals were open and the result was an entry of 26 in the open, headed by GM Darryl Johansen and IMs Russell Dive, Aleksander Wohl and Stephen Solomon.

But the show as stolen by FM Vladimir Feldman, who went through the 9 rounds unbeaten and conceding only four draws. Evidence of his consistent play is that the draws were against the next four placegetters - Dive, WIM Berezina-Feldman, David Smerdon and Johansen. Feldman's full-point lead on 7 points earned him an IM and a place in the world championship play-offs.

Johansen's oversight

The tournament ended on a sensational note, with Johansen self-destructing against Dive. Johansen was paying attention to the top board game between Feldman and Wohl, and in a fairly even position left on a mate in one.

Dive had to play catch-up chess after round 1, in which he lost to Irina Berezina-Feldman, who bypassed the women's zonal and earned an IM by scoring 6 points. It is reported to be the first time ever a husband and wife have both earned IMs in the same tournament.

David Smerdon also gained an IM by scoring 6 points, as FIDE rules provide that anyone scoring 66% in a zonal gets the title and 50% earns an FM. These awards are made without regard to FIDE ratings, and perhaps were part of the attraction to the big entry. With nine players out of the 24 tied on 4½/9, no fewer than 10 of the zonal players gained FMs!

Alexei Kulashko was the second New Zealand player in the zonal, and scored a disappointing 5½ points. He lost three games and was far from satisfied with his form.

It was hoped that in addition to the Australian and New Zealand entrants, some players from elsewhere in the South Pacific would take part. Rajnesh Parmeshwar, of Fiji, entered but did not play and there were entries from Papua New Guinea or the Solomon Islands.

Women's zonal

While Irina Berezina-Feldman's decision to play in the open event was well rewarded, her absence reduced interest in the women's zonal. Also, the six entrants were all from Australia, as Vivian Smith was unable to play. The winner of the double-round event was Laura Moylan with 7½/10, followed by FM Veronica Klimoneko and Geraldine Johns-putra 6, Narelle Szuveges 5, Catherine Lip 3½ and Andrew Constantinou 2½.

Selected games

Here is the last-round game which ensured the title for Feldman and distracted Johansen.

7...Qf5 was played in Ker-Dive, Civic club game, but after 8.φe5! and some accurate follow-up, Black was not able to extinguish White's initiative. I think 7...Qg4 is an improvement.

8.h3

To force Black's hand.

8...Qxf3 9.Wxf3 e6 10.Qd3 Qe7 11.Hc1 Ec8
12.0-0 0-0 13.We2

To pressurise the white squares on Black's
W-side and to fight for control over c4.

13...b5?

Right idea, wrong time. Better was 13...φa5.

14.a4!

Wins material due to the weak white squares in Black's W-side.

14...φb4

Best. If 14...b4 15.φb1 a5 16.Qa6 wins the exchange due to the power of the two Qs.

15.axb5 φxd3 16.Wxd3 axb5 17.φxb5 Wxa5?

This is too risky. Black needs to neutralise the white Q on f4, in order to place pressure on White's b-Δ.

18.Ha1 Wb4 19.Ha7 Ec4? 20.b3!

Wins more material.

20...Wxb5

Forced. If 20...Hcc8 21.Ha4 wins Black's W.

21.bxc4 dxc4 22.Wb1 Wxb1 23.Hxb1 φd5
24.Hxe7!

Liquidates to an easily won ending.

1.d4 c5
 Unusual for Darryl, but he had to win this game to have a chance for first place.
 2.d5 ♗f6 3.e4 ♗g7 4.c4 d6 5.♖c3 ♖a6 6.♖f3
 ♖c7 7.♗f4 ♖f6 8.h3 0-0 9.♗e2 ♖fe8 10.0-0?
 10.♗d2 is better. Then after 10...e5 11.dxe6
 ♖xe6 12.♗h6 saves a tempo over the game continuation.
 10...e5 11.dxe6 ♖xe6 12.♗e3 ♗d7 13.♗d2 ♗c6
 14.♗h6?

This is too slow. White will not have time to attack Black's backward d-♗. 14.♖d5 should have been played instead.

14...♖f6 15.♗xg7 ♕xg7 16.♗d3 ♙e8 17.♙fe1
 ♖d7 18.♗f1

Once again 18.♖d5 is better.
 18...♖e5 19.♖h2 g5!
 Black clamps down on the black squares.

White's position starts to become difficult.

20.b3 ♗f6 21.♙ad1 ♙ad8 22.♗e2?

It's still not too late to play ♖d5.

22...♖f4!

Black has done well in delaying moving his central ♖s until now.

23.♗f1

My original intention was to play 23.♗g4 h5 24.♗f5 but I noticed just in time that this loses to 24...♖xg2! and if 25.♕xg2 then 25...♗xf5. Sometimes when you have a passive position, the best thing is to do nothing!

23...h5 24.g3 ♖e6 25.♗g2 h4!

A good move, which further loosens up
 White's position.

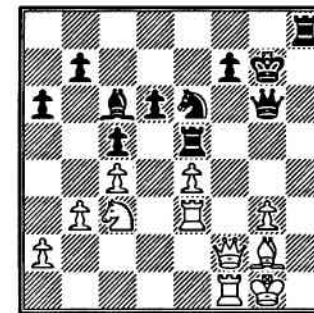

26.♖e2 hxg3 27.fxg3 ♗g6 28.♖c3 a6 29.♖f1
 ♖d4 30.♗f2 g4 31.hxg4

Forced.

31...♖xg4 32.♗f4 ♙e5 33.♖e3 ♖xe3 34.♙xe3
 ♙h8 35.♙f1 ♖e6

Black continues to turn up the heat, in a position where both players have about 1½ minutes to reach move 40.

36.♗f2

36...♗h6

How often does a Grandmaster blunder into a help-mate in one? Darryl told me afterwards he had intended to play 36...♖g5 followed by ♗h6, but had simply played it the wrong way around!

37.♗xf7#!

A lucky escape. 1-0

22nd Waitakere Licensing Trust Open

By FM Bob Smith

Whether it was the record prize-money ($3600), the excellent playing conditions, or the free refreshments afterwards, the 22nd edition of the country's biggest weekender attracted a record number of players to West Auckland on May 1 and 2. In all, 82 players competed, including many from out of town (one player even hailed from Christchurch!).

A new advent this year was free entry for International Masters and discounted entry for Fide Masters. One of the first to take up this offer was IM Ortvin Sarapu. Sadly Ortvin passed away before the tournament; he was remembered with a moment's silence at the opening ceremony.

The A grade was perhaps not as strong as in recent years; notable absentees were IM Russell Dive, who was still in Australia after the Oceania Zonal, and FM Paul Garbett.

Nevertheless, the 20 players in the A Grade included seven rated above 2000 and four members of the most recent Olympiad team.

Heading the field was Olympiad board one Alexei Kulashko (2348), who tied for first last year. His co-winners Peter Stuart (2200) and Leonard McLaren (2230) were also back to defend their title. Others expected to be in the hunt for the top prizes were FM Bob Smith (2340) and NZ Master Peter Green (2178).

Round 1

The first round was almost a perfect swiss result, only Paul Spiller's draw with Wayne Power and Hilton Bennett's draw with Ryan Trass spoiling a clean sweep by the top seeds.

Round 1

But after round two, only three players still had maximum points. Kulashko beat Robert Goris (2143) in a complex Sicilian. Goris looked to have a draw in hand, but badly misplayed the ending. Smith essayed 1 b3 against Green and sufficiently confused his opponent that Peter overlooked a simple loss in a still very unclear position.

The other surprising co-leader was Bruce Wheeler (1940) who upset with a decisive win over McLaren's Sicilian.

Round 3

Round 3 on Saturday often produces upsets and some erratic chess. The key clashes were Kulashko-Smith and Wheeler-Stuart. Kulashko tried the same innocuous line he played successfully against Smith in the Latvian Gambit Tournament in March. Smith replied innocuously also, and the real fight was delayed until the middlegame. Alexei worked himself into time trouble, missed a tactical blow and managed to avoid checkmate only by going into an ending three pawns down, when the result was never in doubt. Wheeler continued his good run by drawing with Stuart, and must have been pleased to have 2.5/3 after the first day. Also on 2.5 was Hilton Bennett (1946), who had beaten Spiller (1969) and Krstev (2031) in consecutive rounds.

Round 4

In round four the sole leader, Smith, had black against Bennett, a game he would have been favoured to win. However, after winning a pawn he was unable to convert the rook and pawn ending, Bennett claiming a draw by repetition. Meanwhile Kulashko bounced back with a convincing win over Wheeler, and Green also closed to within half a point of the lead by beating Alan Dunn.

Leading scores with one round to go: Smith 3.5; Kulashko, Green, Bennett 3; McLaren, Stuart, Krstev, Wheeler, Paul Beach 2.5.

Round 5

The crucial final round pairings were Smith-McLaren, Green-Kulashko, Bennett-Stuart.

With white against McLaren, Smith gained an overwhelming advantage from the opening. However, McLaren managed to survive into an endgame a pawn down. Meanwhile, Kulashko and Green swapped pieces to an equal endgame and agreed a draw.

endgame and agreed a draw. This prompted McLaren to offer Smith the draw he needed for first place. Smith declined, only to miss the win in time trouble. The game was eventually drawn (king and rook pawn versus king). Meanwhile Stuart stopped Bennett's run, ensuring he did not reach four points. In other key games, Krstev beat Wheeler to reach 3½, and Beach could only draw with Mistry.

So four out of five was enough to give Bob Smith first outright, with Kulashko, Green, Stuart and Krstev sharing second. The winner took home $650, while the runners-up received nearly $250 each. Hilton Bennett won the top grade prize with 3, Paul Beach also scored 3 to take out the second grade, and Ryan Trass won the third grade, also with 3 points.

B tournament

Thirty players competed in the separate 'B' Tournament, which was not decided until the last round. The eventual winner was John Huggins, of the Auckland Chess Centre, with 4½/5. He played the swiss gambit to perfection, drawing his first round and then making a withering run to take home $320. Second equal on 4/5 were Graeme Pocock from Tokoroa, Bruce Tidey (Waitemata) and Henry Vital (Auckland Chess Centre).

Graeme was helped somewhat when top seed Scott McLeod failed to show up on Sunday after scoring 1½/3 on Saturday. His was the second unacceptable withdrawal from the B grade. The other was Lynn Parlane, who after losing two games decided the organisers should not have accepted her entry for the B grade and should have moved her to the C grade. She protested by pulling out, causing a default in round 3. These withdrawals will be the subject of reports to NZCF.

C tournament

The C Tournament also had a clear winner. Howick-Pakuranga's Bob Smith (no relation) scored 5/5, leaving many to wonder whether Howick's estimate of their unrated member's playing strength was accurate.

For winning all five games Smith added a $30 bonus to the top prize of $220. Second equal on 4/5 were Brent Cooze (Hastings), Albert Tibble (Waitemata), Akbar Ashrafi (Waitemata) and R. Utai.

Special $50 prizes went to Vivian Smith (best woman, 3½/5 in the B grade) and Ryan Trass (best junior, 3/5 in the A grade).

Director of play for the three tournaments was once again Graham Banks, who did his usual efficient job, while Tony Kesseler did much of the other organising this year, giving perennial organiser Bob Smith the chance to concentrate a little more on his chess.

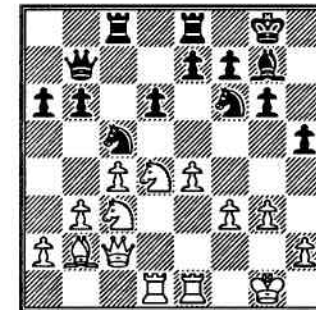

The prizes were presented by Ross Dallow, chairman of the Waitakere Licensing Trust, which once again provided generous sponsorship. Ross noted Ortvin Sarapu's passing and recalled meeting "Mr Chess" many years ago (he had since presented many prizes to Ortvin, who won this tournament seven times).

After the prize-giving free drinks and refreshments were provided, with Bob Smith reminding everyone to mark May 6 and 7, 2000 on their millenium calenders.

1998-99 NZ correspondence championship

By Gordon Hoskyn

Bruce Barnard has taken out the 65th New Zealand correspondence championship - for the third year in a row. He was undefeated, with six wins and four draws, scoring 8/10.

In second place, one point away, was Tim Doyle, who was also runner-up the previous year.

There was a higher-than-usual number of adjudications, caused in part by the death of Howard Whitlock in mid-season.

The following adjudications were performed by ICM Roger Chapman:

Whitlock beat Dive and Vetharaniam; drew with Dunwoody and Frost; lost to Doyle, Cooper, Hampl and Barnard.

Dunwoody beat Hampl and drew with Dive. Cooper drew with Hampl.

The winners of the lower grades were: TT Reserve, H P Bennett; TT2, R S Phillips and K G Reed; TT3, B J Edwards; TT4, C M Ford and J R Gluckman.

Howard Whitlock championship

Acting upon a suggestion by Brian Millar, the association has named the 66th championship, the Howard P Whitlock Memorial Championship.

Points to date: Hoskyn 3/5; Dunwoody, Millar and Vetharaniam 1/2; Frost 1/2; Cooper, 1/2; Doyle 0/1.

New Zealand news

Auckland

Auckland CC retained the Jenkins Trophy against North Shore in a match on May 10, but the margin was narrow - 11:9.

North Shore have won the A grade interclub tournament, with 18½ points, followed by Auckland 16½, Howick-Pakuraqnga 10, Waitemata 3. North Shore beat Auckland 4½:3½ in the last round.

Taranaki junior and age groups

The Taranaki junior and age groups tournament was held on May 15, with 24 players taking part in the two events. The Under 16 event was a round robin with four players, and was won by Jeff Quinlan with 3/3.

There 20 players in the Under-12 5-round swiss, which was won by Phillip Wilson with 5/5, followed by Philomena McCormach and Ronshi Perera 2= on 4. Five of the participants were under 10, with Seamus Doyle on 3½ scoring best.

Reports for NZ Chess

The brief items printed above are the only club or district reports which have reached NZ Chess recently.

Clubs are asked (once again) to see that someone sends information on tournaments (before and after), including a game or two, to keep the rest of the chess community informed about what is going on.

Open tournaments scheduled for 1999

Details of each event are available from the organising club

Papatoetoe Open, August 15.

Waikato Open, August 22.

South Island Rapid Championship, Gambit CC, Blenheim, September 19.

South Island Championship, Gambit CC, Blenheim, September 20-24.

26th North Shore Open, October 2-3.

All-Canterbury Championship, Christchurch, December 11-12.

NZ Championship & Major Open, Howick-Pakuranga CC, Auckland, Dec 28 - Sat, Jan 9.

NZ Rapid Championship, Howick-Pakuranga CC, Auckland, Sun-Mon, Jan 10-11, 2000.

Clubs are asked to supply details of 1999 and 2000 events as soon as dates are finalised

Kasparov v The World

IM Russell Dive reports that he has been interviewed regularly by RNZ's Radio Sports Network to discuss the one-game match Kasparov v The World which is being played on the Internet.

(The Internet address for the game is www.zone.com/kasparov/ )

Russell says his first interview with Martin Devlin was at 7am on the Wednesday after the game started, and 4 moves had been played.

Subsequent interviews were at 8am on the next two Mondays, and it looked as though this timing would be repeated.

Interviews with Ian Jones and Steve Rixon followed these sessions, so it is obvious that chess was reaching a wide radio audience.

NZ Women's Championship

Vivian Smith retained her New Zealand Women's Championship title in a tournament held at Queen's Birthday weekend. The event was put on at short notice with Vivian and Edith Otene as organisers (otherwise it would not have been held at all) and the five entrants played a double-round round robin.

Vivian started with a loss, but won the remaining games to score 7/8, followed by Eleanora Mikhailik 6 and Edith Otene 3½. Helen Courtney and Gwen Jones completed the field.

Monaco

The 8th "Amber" tournament featured a similar field to that in previous years with the same format. In a double round-robin each pair played one normal rapid game with a time control of 25 minutes plus 10 seconds per move and one blindfold game with a similar time control except that the additional time per move was 20 seconds.

Vladimir Kramnik scored a narrow victory but for most of the way he had a commanding lead which was only whittled away as the Russian finished with six draws. This is Kramnik's third win in this event, the others being last year (tie with Shirov) and 1996.

Until round 7 the fight for second was very close between the next five but towards the end Veselin Topalov and Alexei Shirov cleared away, helped by strong blindfold performances - 8 out of 11, the same as Kramnik. Vishy Anand, a two-time winner of the event, top-scored in the rapid games (7½/11) but scored poorly in the blindfold games.

Scores: 1 Kramnik (RUS) 14½; 2-3 Shirov (ESP) & Topalov (BUL) 14; 4-5 Anand (IND)

Essen

A category 14 tournament in this German city saw a four-way tie for first between GMs Larry Christiansen (USA), Rustem Dautov (GER), Emil Sutovsky (ISR) and Vadin Zvjaginsev (RUS) on 5½/9. GMs Bischoff (GER) & De Firmian (USA) were next on 4½.

Korchnoi v Spassky

A 10-game rapid chess match between these two old rivals helped celebrate the 275th anniversary of the founding of the University of St Petersburg. Boris Spassky drew first blood, winning game one, but Viktor Korchnoi struck back immediately, winning games two and three. Spassky won game four to tie the scores but Korchnoi won two more games without reply to take the match 6-4.

The 4th and 8th games were the most interesting:

Michael Adams scored a career best performance in taking first place in this category 19 event played in April. The English GM led from start to finish in a low-scoring tournament. His undefeated 6/9 gave him a half-point margin over second-placed Vladimir Kramnik who briefly caught up in round 5 only to fall behind again the next day.

Spanish GM Miguel Illescas, the lowest rated player in the field, did well to finish in a third place tie but Anatoly Karpov and Vishy

Anand on 50% sharing bottom rung would not have been elated over their performances.

With almost 70% of the games drawn the number of interesting games was not great, yet the event started off with two fine games in the first round.

Things might have been even worse for Anand had Peter Svidler played a few more moves in their round 5 clash.

Svidler, P - Anand, V

White to play move 70.

Svidler agreed the draw in the diagram position, presumably thinking that after 70. xd4! Black would win the a-pawn with a knight fork when the black king could hold the fort on the kingside until the knight could return. This, however, is not so and the final position was a win for White as the following analysis shows:

70. xd4!  b5+ 71. c5!

Doubtless this was the idea that Svidler overlooked. The knight will be kept out of play while the white king ambles to the apparently not very helpful square d7. However, from d7 the king will be able to support the f-pawn after the black king is forced to chase the h-pawn.

Fritz 5.32 v Polgar

The computer program won this 30-minutes per player/game clash in May quite comfortably. After three draws the computer won three in a row before Judit won game 7. The computer won the final game to make the score 5½-2½.

Judit Polgar's tactical style is probably not best suited to playing computers which can play the same way even more effectively, especially with very limited time.

South Island Championships

Peter Voss has made the arrangements for this year's South Island Championships in Blenheim, which will be held in the St John Ambulance's new rooms, September 19-24. The facilities will be excellent.

Peter is arranging for accommodation at Bing's Motel, just 50 metres from the venue, and will also be able to arrange private board/billets for a few people.

To make advance arrangements, reach Peter at 20 Percy Street, Blenheim. Phone 03 578-8219.

Game 7, Sicilian [B83]

It is obvious that Fritz's opening has failed completely. White's attack is well advanced while Black has no prospect of counterplay whatsoever.

19.h5 ♗d6 20.h6 g6 21.♗e5 ♗g5 22.♗h2 ♗b6 23.♗xd5 ♗xg4

And on further reflection Fritz resigned. My own Fritz came up with the following winning line: 23...♗xg4 24.♗df1 ♗e7 25.♗c3 ♗f6 (25...♗b5 26.♗d6; 25...♗xf5 26.♗xf5! and 27.♗b8+) 26.♗b8 ♗e8 27.fxg6 hxg6 28.h7+ ♗g7 29.♗xf6+ ♗xf6 30.♗e5! 1-0.

Arnhem

Viktor Korchnoi and Matthew Sadler shared first prize in a quadrangular double-rounder in this Dutch city in May. The 68-year old Korchnoi lost his first game to Sadler and the last to Xie Jun but won his other four games. The scores: 1-2 GM Korchnoi (SWI) & GM Sadler (ENG) 4; 3 GM Nijboer (NED) 2½; 4 GM Xie Jun (CHN) 1½.
